

Fulbright New Zealand invites applications for the 2010 Ian Axford (New Zealand) Fellowships in Public Policy. Three to four Fellowships will be awarded for seven months, commencing February 2010. Note that the upcoming deadline for receipt of applications is Monday 2nd March 2009.

Ian Axford (New Zealand) Fellowships in Public Policy give outstanding American professionals the opportunity to research, travel and gain practical experience in public policy in New Zealand, including firsthand knowledge of economic, social and political reforms and management of the government sector. Established by the New Zealand Government in 1995, the programme aims to reinforce New Zealand-United States links, improve public policy development by cross-fertilisation of ideas and experience, and build up a network of public policy experts on both sides of the Pacific.

Applicants must be US citizens with at least five years experience in their professions, and submit a formal application. For further information and an application form, see Fulbright New Zealand's website <http://www.fulbright.org.nz/awards/am-ian-axford.html>
